Domaine Tempier is a legend in the world of wine. It came to prominence in the 1940s thanks to its owner Lucien Peyraud, who is responsible for the creation and preservation of the Bandol appellation and the revival of the grape variety mourvèdre. His sons, Jean-Marie and François, run the estate today and keep up their father's traditional standards of quality. Clive Coates, MW, wrote "this is one of the great wine estates in the world." The tiny quantities produced of the tremendous old vine mourvèdre wines and their unparalleled quality and character give Domaine Tempier's Bandol wines true cult status.

1602 3 Bottles of La Spinetta Barbaresco

The Rivetti family began producing wine three decades ago in 1978. Starting a winery was a long-standing family goal, beginning with grandfather Giovanni Rivetti, who emigrated to Argentina in 1890 with the hopes of returning to Italy with enough fortune to purchase vineyards and produce wine. He never returned to Italy, but his son was able to return and fulfill this dream and the winery now is run by the grandchildren. The Rivetti family's innovative style and intelligent approach to traditional winemaking has won them many fans for their beautifully balanced, open and approachable wines. These three bottles of La Spinetta Barbaresco represent the winery's best reserve bottlings. The lot includes one bottle each:

- 2004 La Spinetta Barbaresco Riserva Valeirano
